

25. SCARY STUFF

Welcome song

K: Welcome to our fun learning radio broadcast with Kiki and Mr. Suits! This program was created in collaboration with Azyzah Educational and Interactive Theatre.

S: Nice to meet you friends!

K: Our question today is from Petr, who is 11 years old from České Budějovice, Czech Republic.

S: Hi, Kiki and Mr. Suits, could you tell us about scary stuff?

K: Yes! Ready to learn about scary stuff?

S: Let's go.

Theme

S: Boo!

K: Whoa, Mr. Suits, you scared me!

S: Hahaha, I know! But sometimes it's fun to get a little scared. I love scary stories!

K: Yes, like those we tell in the summer around the campfire! About ghosts or old haunted places.

S: And monsters! Like Frankenstein's monster, or the swamp man who lives in the lake

K: and comes out at night to eat.

S: I wouldn't be able to sleep after that!

K: Me neither! And what about zombies? Are you afraid a zombie will eat your brain, Mr. Suits?

S: Not funny, Kiki! - But I am scared of things that go bump in the night. Once I was alone and I heard a noise. I thought it was a ghost. And then I turned on the light and it was Meow. My cat.

K: Wow. Totally scary. I'm glad it was just the cat! - Once I was sleeping and I had a dream that the swamp monster was touching my feet with his wet hands. I woke up and my feet were wet! But it was just my dog licking me!

S: Wow, Kiki! Totally scary!

K: Sometimes it's fun to get a little scared, but it's nice to know that ghosts and monsters only exist in stories.

S: Friends, do you know any scary stories? Send them to us and we will tell them on the next show.

Story

S: Woo-hoo! It's story time!

K: Today's story is about a strange experience in a new house!
There was once a boy whose mother had died. Soon after, he and his father moved to a different house. The house was very old and the boy said:

(K) BOY: This house looks scary, I hope it isn't haunted.

(S) DAD: Don't be silly, son, there is no such thing as ghosts.

K: While his father was busy with moving, the boy walked through the house. It was dark, the floors were creaky and there were cobwebs everywhere.

(K) BOY: This place gives me goosebumps.

K: Later the boy found the kitchen and asked the old cook for something to eat. She gave him fresh cookies and a glass of milk. Then she asked him with a smile:

(S) COOK: You don't like this house, do you?

(K) BOY: No, it's dark and scary. I don't think I will sleep tonight.

(S) COOK: Maybe I could tell you a bedtime story to help you fall asleep.

K: The boy agreed happily. In the evening, the cook told him a story and then kissed the boy good night.

(K) BOY: Please, leave the light on. I'm afraid there might be ghosts.

(S) COOK: You know, not all ghosts are bad. Good night, boy.

K: She smiled and closed the door. In the morning the boy's father asked him:

(S) DAD: How did you sleep?

(K) BOY: I slept very well. I was afraid at first but the cook told me a nice story and she left the light on all night.

K: The father frowned.

(S) DAD: But, son, we do not have a cook!
